

Leland Bardwell

Novelist, poet, playwright. Born of Irish parentage in India 1928. Came to Ireland at an early age. Has been publishing since the 70s. Co-editor of Cyphers magazine. Winner of The 1992 Martin Toonder Award. Member of Aosdána.

Publications: Three novels and one short story collection: Girl On A Bicycle, (Co-op Press, Dublin, 1977); That London Winter, (Co-op, 1981); The House, (Brandon, 1984); There We Have Been, (Attic, 1989).

Stage plays: Edith Piaf, (The Olympia, 1984); Open-Ended Prescription, (The Peacock, 1979); Thursday, (Trinity College, 1972).

Poetry: The Mad Cyclist, (New Writers Press, Dublin, 1970); The Fly and The Bedbug, (Beaver Row Press, Dublin, 1984); Dostoyevsky's Grave. New And Selected Poems, (Dedalus, 1991); The White Beach, (Salmon, 1998); Pagan At The Table, (1998).